Hallowe'en Festivity

Tony Martin's Jive Band Appearing at Dance This Sunday

Tony Martin's county-famous jive band, an eight-piece orchestra, will be the feature attraction at this Sunday's special Hallowe'en dance at the Community House. This will be the first time his musicians have appeared in Marin City, but not the first time many of our residents have heard him. Martin earned the appreciation of many local dancers from his long appearance at Fairfax Park, and at last year's Marinship picnic.

Dancing will begin promptly at 8:30 p.m., and will continue through to 12:30 a.m. There will be refreshments on sale, and a holiday atmosphere engendered by special gay decorations.

Everyone in town, and his friends, is invited to come to the party. Admission is, as always, $1 per person, with servicemen admitted for 75 cents.

The affair is one of the regular series of Press Club Frolics sponsored by the editorial committee of the Marin City Council to benefit the town's paper, The Marin Citizen.

John Bolles To Speak to Home Course

The third meeting of the Marin County Home Planners' Institute next Monday evening will feature John S. Bolles speaking on "Functional Planning" and Maurice Sands on "Home Furnishings and Color Harmony."

These classes in post-war home planning are offered free to all interested adults. They are held at Tamalpais Center, Kentfield, as a feature of the adult education program of Marin Junior College.

Meetings begin at 8 and close at 10 p.m., with one hour devoted to each of the two scheduled topics.

Global War Topic By Famed Man At Valley Forum

"Geopolitics and the Global War," will be the topic which Dr. C. Langdon White will discuss for the Mill Valley Forum at its next session, Thursday evening, November 2, at the Outdoor Art Club.

He is said to give a novel and fascinating interpretation of human behavior based on the conditions and resources of living. He is widely traveled and a promoter of constructive international relations.

He knows the old world and has given especial attention to South American countries. He recently came from Cleveland, Ohio, where he was a director of the Council of Inter-American Relations, maintained by that city.

Ceremony Tonite

Marin City Girl Scouts will hold their Investiture ceremonies this Friday, October 27, at 7:30 p.m. at the school building.

House Fires Demonstration At Free Movie

A special movie and fire prevention demonstration with real models and fires will be presented in the Marin City Auditorium Thursday night, November 2, at 6:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

This is a special feature for the regular recreation movie, always given Thursday nights.

Grown-ups are invited as well as the youngsters.

The demonstration with real model houses will be presented by Jimmie Richardson, maintenance superintendent of the Vallejo Housing Authority. The demonstration has been shown to schools, clubs, special mass meetings of adults in many places, and has won wide interest and commendation, it is reported.

Last Sunday's Scare Gun Shot Wounds No One

The shot which was heard in Marin City last Sunday night was fired by one of the town's deputies in an effort to halt a soldier who broke away from custody, reports the sheriff's office this week.

"No one was wounded, nor did we intend that anyone should be," states the sheriff's office to quiet city rumors of a man being hit.

The actual story was that the officers took a drunken soldier into custody. He broke away from them, and in an attempt to halt his escape, the deputy shot at the ground behind him, said a local spokesman.

The man did not stop, so the local office wired to San Rafael where the soldier was later arrested and turned over to Army authorities at Hamilton Field.

Garden Center's Fig Crop Nearly Ready For Sale

The Garden Center's fig crop will soon be ripe for marketing here, reports Mrs. W. J. Richards. The large juicy fruit is ripening rapidly in this week's sunshine.

The fruit will be on sale to all Marin City people.

The Garden Center also has onion sets and bedding flower plants to sell now.

Marin City was the only town in the county which suffered no vandalism last Hallowe'en.

Tin Can Salvage Week Starts in Town Monday

Next week, from October 30 to November 4, has been designated Tin Can Salvage Week in Marin City, announces Mrs. Earl James, salvage chairman.

All residents are asked to bring their collections to the salvage bin behind the Medical Center.

"We know many families have saved tin for weeks but have neglected to turn it in. Next time you go to the market, please remember to bring it along to the collection center," Mrs. James urged.

When the bin is full, a truck from the county salvage committee will take the supply away to meet the nation's tin need.

Ice Truck in Accident Near Viaduct Road

A Sausalito Fuel and Ice truck was involved in a traffic accident last Monday morning when the truck driven by Frank White of House 484 collided with a car driven by Helen Jewell of San Francisco.

The accident took place this side of the viaduct as White turned into Marin City and Miss Jewell was entering the Waldo approach toward Sausalito.

Minor injuries were received by Miss Jewell, and her passenger, Mary C. Aubrey, also of San Francisco.

White's son, Frank, aged 12, who was riding with his father, was also slightly injured and received first aid at the Medical Center here.

Launching Party and Picnic For Workers and Families

Plans were being made this week at Marinship for the largest picnic and celebration in the history of Marin County, when residents of the county join with 15,000 Marinship workers and their families to observe the launching of the tanker USS Tamalpais next Sunday, October 29.

It is expected that 20,000 persons will be present to honor the 523-foot tanker, which has been named flagship of the Marin-built fleet of cargo ships and tankers.

Feature event of the day will include a big parade, tour of finished tanker, open house, the launching, entertainment throughout the day and ferry trip to and from San Francisco.

Gates 1 and 3 of the shipyard will open at 11 a.m. and will close at 3:30 p.m. Admission will be by invitation only, in conformity with security rules. Invitations are being issued to all employees and to Marin County residents through a large number of civic organizations.

Highest ranking officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps will review the parade as it passes Way 5, where the Tamalpais is now being rushed to completion for launching. The parade will include bands, floats, marching units and majorettes.

To be officially presented to the U. S. Navy will be a Marinship house flag, which this ship alone will be entitled to fly wherever she may be throughout coming years.

The wife or mother of some Marinship worker, or a woman worker herself, will sponsor the ship. Selection will be made by an employee committee from among contributors to Marinship Treasure Chest, unified charity drive now underway. The matron of honor will be similarly chosen.

Free coffee and punch will be served to guests by Marinship Corporation. Many groups of workers throughout the yard are planning displays and entertainment. Continuous music will be played over the public address system which covers the mile-long yard.

A completed Marinship tanker, the SS Buena Vista Hills, will be on display at the outfitting docks. Starting at 1 p.m. a variety show will be presented near that point at Marinship War Fathers' Club.

Children's Party on Haunted Eve at Our Community Center

Marin City's annual Hallowe'en party for the town's youngsters will be next Tuesday, October 31, starting at 6 p.m. All children are invited to come in costume, if possible. Festivities willl begin at the school grounds, where the children will be formed in a parade over to the Community House. Prizes will be awarded to the children wearing the prettiest, cleverest and most original costumes.

After the costume parade, free movies will be shown in the Auditorium. Following the movies, there will be a play, "A Wicked Witch," given by members of the Children's Club under direction of Mrs. Martha Roberts.

Treats will be distributed to all children at the party.

The affair is sponsored by the Marin City Council, under chairmanship of Vern Lindburg, public affairs chairman.

Organizations cooperating to produce the party are Marin City Women's Club, P.-T.A., Volunteers in Community Service, Teeners' Club and the Recreation Department.

22 Families Affected by Eviction Rule

Twenty-two families have been found ineligible for residence in Marin City, this week announced Merritt Webster, housing authority assistant executive director.

These people are being asked to vacate their dwellings here by November 1, Webster said.

This action is a result of the recent ruling to evict all tenants from Marin City who are not working in designated county certified industries.

The rule does not apply to wives of service men living on the project. However, the eviction ruling is being applied to wives of men in the Merchant Marine.

School Salvage Drive Begins

Starting November 3, the first Friday of every month has been designated paper salvage day at the Marin City school, announces Mrs. Earl James, salvage chairman.

The children are being asked to bring the family's salvaged newspaper and magazines to classrooms at that time.

Mrs. Roberts, Play Leader, Leaving Soon

Tribute for a job well done was paid to Martha Roberts, recreation leader, by members of the Marin City Council when she announced her resignation from the Recreation Department last Sunday night.

Each member expressed his regret at losing such a valuable community leader.

Mrs. Roberts is leaving next week to return to her family home at Brooklyn, N. Y.

During her year's work here she has inaugurated a score of craft classes, enthusiastically attended by Marin City youngsters; model airplane groups; and has helped with the organization of the Children's Club and children's dance classes.

She was instrumental in starting the Teener Council and Teener Club, "399."

She was also known in town for her active cooperation in promoting adult organizations and meetings.

Tardiness of School Children Brings Warning

In a letter sent to parents of all Marin City school children this week, Superintendent Clifton Boyle points out there are 10 to 14 tardy children in each class daily.

"I believe that you will agree with me when I say that tardiness is the beginning of what may become a very bad habit, and which may, later in the child's life, lead to tardiness and absenteeism from his job," the superintendent wrote.

He also emphasized that tardiness is considered an absence for a fractional part of a day, and the only legal excuse for absence of a school child is illness of the child.

City War Chest Drive Lags; Is Report to Town Council

Marin City's War Chest campaign, with a goal of $1000, is lagging, reports Mrs. W. C. Billingsley, chairman of the local effort. So far, the only two Marin City groups pledged 100 per cent are the Teeners, with a contribution of $50, and the Recreation Department staff. Mrs. Billingsley announced that collections at the local school will be handled by herself and Mrs. Walter Del Tredici, with Superintendent Clifton Boyle promising his cooperation in their efforts.

DANCES

The matter of supervision of dances at the Community House was introduced by Harrison Abbott during the Good of Marin Hour, with the question, "Are you satisfied with the way the dances are run?"

The unanimous answer was "no", but all present agreed on the major correction — addition of two deputies on the floor during the affairs.

Both W. C. Billingsley and Ed Anderson declared there has been remarkably little trouble at any of the Marin City festivities.

The subject of supervision brought up the question of the town's policing. Several members present, including Chairman Norman Campbell, charged gross inefficiency on part of the local force.

PRAISE, CRITICISM

In contrast, some members praised deputies on duty at the last dance.

An addition to the local force was suggested by Ed Anderson —establishment of Military Police in the project during certain hours. Members of the Improvement Committee reported that all channels have been explored in attempting to get this service, but that the Provost Marshall in this area does not have enough men to assign one permanently to this town.

The town is on the Military Police swing between Sausalito and San Rafael, with the men patroling the city on their trips back and forth.

CLEANUP

The question of cleaning up Marin City was raised by Councilman Vern Lindburg, who stressed that certain areas, particularly by the bus station, were becoming a disgrace to the community. The matter was referred to the Improvement Committee for action.

The beanshooter menace was reported upon by Milen Dempster, representing management. Dempster stated that the housing authority had requested the candy store to return several gross of the weapons back to the manufacturers, and it has been done.

An election committee for the coming election was appointed. Members will be Alex Murphy, Earl James, and Milen Dempster.

Vern Lindburg reported that Scout Troops 32 and 34 have been combined under a new leader, Arthur Hart, and the first meeting organized 20 boys into the group.

The supply of brooms is steadily dropping, says OPA.

Bus Service Curtailed in Marin City

Service by Marin City's intercity bus will be curtailed above the hill kerosene station, effective next Monday, this week announced Charles Moser, the owner.

Because of rainy weather hazards, trips up to the top of the north hill will be made only in the sedan during the hours from 8:20 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Before and after those hours, the bus will go only as far as the kerosene station.

"With a heavy load of workers from the shift change, winter's wet and slippery roads, and the toll those trips have taken on the bus equipment, I am going to discontinue the trips to the top of the hill before some serious accident occurs," Moser said.

The new bus schedule is printed elsewhere in this paper, and will be posted in the window at the Marin City Market.

Billy's Birthday

Louis Arthur Pickens, Jr., better known as Billy, celebrated his fifth birthday last week at a party shared by his playmates.

Billy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pickens of House 301.

Missionary From Japan to Speak At Christ Church

Miss Eleanor Still, returned missionary from Japan, will speak this Friday night at 7:30 at the Marin City Church of Christ, House 489.

Young people's recreational hour is Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Community gym.

"Christian Characteristics" will be the sermon topic at the 11 a.m. communion and preaching. Young people's Bible study is at 6:30 p.m.

The evening evangelistic service sermon will be "How Can I Know I am Saved", at 7:30 p.m.

Bartley Crum in Sausalito Address

More than 150 Marin County Democrats and Republicans heard Bartley C. Crum, former Willkie campaign manager for Northern California, call for the re-election of President Roosevelt Tuesday night at a dinner meeting in Sausalito, during which Crum said of the President's re-election, "an urgent necessity to guarantee durable peace."

Second speaker at the Sausalito meeting was Samuel W. Gardiner, San Anselmo city attorney, who traced the history of American political parties. Chairman of the meeting was Ernest Jackson, Sausalito businessman,

Check Charge Makes Quick Up 'n Down

Charge for cashing checks at the Marin City Market, which was upped to 15 cents last Friday, was back down to 10 cents yesterday.

Complaints from residents at the additional charge brought management into immediate negotiation with the stare proprietor, Lonnie Nichols.

According to Merritt Webster, assistant executive director, the Housing Commission had set the charge at 10 cents, in a verbal agreement with the previous market operator.

The price was raised because the store is not now cashing bond or personal checks, said Nichols.

Knudson's Team Downs Sausalito

Konrad Knudson's team was back in the lead this week with a defeat over Sausalito's football team, to the score of 46 to 6.

Jack Tiddy, the all-star of the team, made five touchdowns during the game, and Knudson contributed two.

Marin City's next Blood Bank day will be Friday, November 10th.

ON FOREIGN POLICY

The New York Times

"Since we believe that unless the United States does actually win the peace for which its young men are fighting, we shall have at best only a figurative few years before another war engulfs us, we arrive at the conclusion that the Democrats and Mr. Roosevelt are a wiser choice than the Republicans and Mr. Dewey.

"In the acid test of the war crisis Mr. Roosevelt saw the issue clearly and met it boldly while Mr. Dewey expressed his faith that the United States could find security in isolation."

Walter Lippman
New York Herald-Tribune

"I cannot feel that Mr. Dewey can be trusted with responsibility in foreign affairs. For a man whose claim to office rests on his efficiency, the reckless inaccuracy of Mr. Dewey's remarks is startling.

"President Roosevelt has played the leading part in forming and in holding together the greatest military coalition in the history of the world. It is Roosevelt's achievement and it is a very great achievement indeed."

OK
ON DOMESTIC POLICY

The new Bill of Rights, proclaimed by the President in his message to Congress in January, 1944, contains our post-war objectives. These rights are:

"The right to a useful and remunerative job in the industries, or shops or farms or mines of the Nation.

"The right to earn enough to provide adequate food and clothing and recreation.

"The right of every farmer to raise and sell his products at a return which will give him and his family a decent living.

"The right of every businessman to trade in an atmosphere of freedom from unfair competition and domination by monopolies at home or abroad.

"The right of every family to a decent home.

"The right to adequate protection from the opportunity to achieve and enjoy good health.

"The right to a good education.

"The right to adequote protection from the economic fears of old age, sickness, accident and unemployment.

"All of these rights spell security. And after this war is won, we must be prepared to move forward, in the implementation of these rights, to new goals of human happiness and well being."

Newsy Notes

COSTUME DANCE HELD TONIGHT

Because Hallowe'en is on Tuesday, October 31, the Teener's Costume dance will be held the Friday before (Oct. 27) at 9 p.m.

Twenty-five cents will be charged for admission and there will be a prize for the best costume. There will also be a JITTERBUG CONTEST.

The orchestra will be Ned Appleby's WONDERFUL band.

Refreshments will be sold by the Hostess Committee. Chairman of the committee is Mrs. J. F. Draper.

It seems there was a slight mistake in the Hollis Blake-Gordon Cox incident. Due to the editor's fault it was misunderstood and misprinted. We owe an apology to Gorden Cox for putting in his name and Gordon Collins for not putting in his.

HELP WANTED!

Do you want a job? If your answer is "yes", come to see Eleanor Campbell in Building 401, across from the "399" Club, Tuesday night at 7:30.

Dues must be paid by the 14th to be allowed to stay in the Club.

At last the treasurer of the council is enforcing a law requiring your dues to be paid up to date. It is one way to keep out younger children and those who do not have a Teener card.

Alice James began collecting the dues October 1, and has kept it up since then. Dues may be paid in advance. We suggest that you do so immediately to avoid confusion.

Hear Tony Martin's jive band at the dance this Sunday evening.

Little Willie, or Anyone Can Make Mistake

Willie Rombke, our most distinguished Mayor, is to be our victim this week. (Ha! Ha!)

Many of you know that he was born in the small, but industrious "burg" of Aredale, Iowa. (About 2,000 population). Willie comes from the State of much corn, and knowing Willie as we do, he brought too much of Iowa with him (Nuff said). All kidding aside, Willie has done a swell job with what he has to work with and we should let it be known that the Teeners in Marin City appreciate all the things he has done for them.

To get back to his past. As a little boy, Willie remembers nothing of significance, except that he was born (which we took for granted) on June 14, 1928 (remember that, girls). Willie's life became interesting when he became interested in the weaker sex. However, when ever he looks at a girl, his face always blushes (and sometimes for other reasons)—hence Willie's sunburn.

Willie was prominent in athletics, principally baseball. He was a student at Tam for about a year and a half. Now, however, he goes to Mare Island Continuation School at Mare Island, where he works.

We'll now leave Willie in peace for the duration.

May he rest in peace!

Council Highlights

The meeting was called to order October 24, 1944, at 8:30 p.m., in building 401 by Teener Mayor, Willie Rombke.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved by Lynn Draper, secretary.

The dance committee reported to the council that the Marin Citizen is willing to pay $15 toward decorations if we do the decorating and leave the decorations up for the next Press Club Frolic. The motion was moved and approved unanimously.

Lynn Draper, teener secretary, read the official resignation of Bob Greenwood, teener council member, which was accepted. The said person suggested that Glenn Bishop be nominated to take his place. This nomination was unanimously approved.

The bill concerning the damaged projector was once more discussed. However, since the party concerned was not present, no action was taken.

Since Alice James is no longer the teener treasurer, an election was held to find a new one. The results of this election showed that Glenn Bishop would be our new treasurer. It was moved and seconded that the meeting be adjourned. This motion was carried unanimously.

School Brought to Homes Of Invalids by New Teacher

From a rich background of experience and training in many parts of the United States, Miss Eudora Sylvester has come to Marin City as the school's home teacher.

"As home teacher, I go to the children who cannot attend their classes at school", says Miss Sylvester. "Some of the youngsters are crippled, others have heart conditions—all of them are unable to leave their homes, either permanently or temporarily."

"I consider this the finest type of work I could be doing now — bringing education to these young shut-ins", Miss Sylvester emphasized.

At present she has five children whom she visits. The amount of time she can spend with each child will depend upon the number she tutors.

"If any resident here has a child, from 6 to 12 years of age, who is physically prevented from coming to school, I hope you will see Mr. Boyle at the school, and arrange to have me visit him", she urged.

The home course follows the Marin County course of study. "Health of the child is my first consideration. He is given as much work as he is physically able to absorb. The home program is not necessarily to keep him abreast of his class, but to keep him stimulated and not too far behind his age group", she pointed out.

Miss Sylvester is a graduate of Tulsa University in Oklahoma, and completed her course of study with post-graduate work at New York's Columbia University.

During her years of work with education and children she has supervised children in foster homes, supervised an Italian kindergarten in the East Side of New York, and conducted Americanization classes for adult Italians.

She was community teacher and recreation leader at the rural town of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma.

While she was working her way through college, Miss Sylvester taught recreation and handwork to children in mining camps.

Hanky Shower For Birthday Celebration

A bridge game and handkerchief shower in honor of Mrs. J. R. Kahrt's birthday was given last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Makaroff, House 305.

The hanky gifts were cleverly presented in a series of illustrated envelopes.

Although Mrs. Kahrt's birthday is not until November 7, the party was pushed ahead, as Mrs. Kahrt will be in the south on vacation at that time.

Guests were Mesdames Robert Cooper, Fred Phillips, Julia Hobson, E. B. Mathews, George Galbraith, Nina Default, Mrs. Makaroff and Mrs. Kahrt.

High score at the bridge game went to the guest of honor. Low score was held by Mrs. Cooper.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Initiation at Club Meeting

The Marin City Women's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting for members Wednesday, November 1 at 7:30 p.m.

Feature event of the evening will be initiation of 15 new members into the club.

Ladies Donate $10 to Red Cross For Servicemen

Ten dollars was donated to the Marin County Red Cross Camp and Hospital Committee this week by the executive board of the Marin City Women's Club.

This money will be used for Christmas gift packages for hospitalized service men.

Apron Sale Scheduled by Women's Club

Members of the Marin City Women's Club are now busily engaged in sewing aprons for an apron sale to be held here December 2, announces Mrs. E. B. Mathews, sale chairman.

Among the styles which will be offered are mother and daughter sets, sister sets, small fancy aprons, and the large practical type.

"Many people will find the apron sale is the answer to the Christmas gift need," Mrs. Mathews pointed out.

One of the highlights of the sale day will be a raffle, with the winner receiving one of the fanciest items.

Plans are also under way for a food sale to be incorporated with the apron sale.

Pvt. Malcolm Pendley from Hamilton Field was a dinner guest Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mary Meyers.

Mrs. Raymond Bethel from Pueblo, Colorado, arrived this week for a long visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moore of House 620. Mrs. Bethel is Mr. Moore's sister, and Mr. Bethel is Mrs. Moore's brother — the complicated relationship resulting from the marriage of brother and sister to another brother and sister set. Or are we making ourselves clear?

Mrs. Alice O'Rourke of A47-371 received a captured Japanese souvenir last week from her husband, Edward, who is fighting somewhere in the South Pacific. The memento is a Japanese postcard left on an island by retreating enemy forces, and taken by O'Rourke when the American Army established itself on the territory.

Corrine Bond, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bond of House 71, is confined to her home with scarlet fever.

Earl Faubel bumped a door so hard with his left arm, that he has to carry it in a sling now, though there are no broken bones.

Thanks...

To all of you in Marin City, thanks for your patronage during our past 12 months here in Marin City, where we have served you the best we have been able.

For us it has been a year of excitement and interest in meeting all you folks from the various parts of our United States, hearing about your part of the country to the extent that we would feel at home anywhere we should go.

It has also been a year of a certain amount of disappointment and heartbreak in not being able to receive enough quantities of merchandise such as film, clocks, and favorite toiletries to satisfy the needs of the community.

We have been trying to do our best and will continue to do so in your interest.

We have also made mistakes and possibly lost our self control on occasions, which we now regret. Our service at times may have been slow, but these have been things beyond our control.

It is our earnest desire to bring to you the best service possible, and as much critical merchandise as we can get, so each one of you will have your fair share.

Again many thanks for your favors.

Yours for a BETTER MARIN CITY,
REINHART MONSON

The Week at Your Marin County Theatres

Hedda Hopper: Looking at HOLLYWOOD

Gregory Peck is the hottest thing in town. Some say he is a second Gary Cooper. Actually he's the FIRST Gregory Peck.

Critics went all out about him in "Days of Glory"—but not the picture.

He co-stars with Ingrid Bergman in "Spellbound", which Alfred Hitchcock directed. He is the only male star except Gary Cooper whom Ingrid Bergman has ever been able to look up to. Peck is 6 feet 2. This lanky young man has not been built up by desperate Hollywood studios scurrying to alleviate the acute male shortage.

Greg was a pre-medical student at the University of California when he took part in a school production of "Anna Christie" and decided to give up medicine and become an actor. He got his first real break in the Katharine Cornell play "The Doctor's Dilemma." That decided him to become an actor. But before that he was a member of the Barter theater in Abingdon, Va.

He was a stroke on the Bear crew that rowed at Poughkeepsie in 1938.

Lowly Beginning

Peck's first professional experience in shomanship was as a barker on the Midway at the New York World's Fair.

In a contest he won a two-year scholarship to the New York Neighborhood Playhouse. Between semesters he won the Barter theater award.

Guthrie McClintic saw him in a Barter Theater play and engaged him for the tour with "The Doctor's Dilemma."

Made his Broadway debut in "The Morning Star."

Played juvenile lead opposite Jane Cowl in "Punch and Julia."

Also played male lead opposite Martha Scott in "The Willow and I", and opposite Geraldine Fitzgerald in "Sons and Soldiers."

Received no less than a dozen motion picture offers before he accepted the RKO-Selznick contract.

Strictly Personal

Gregory Peck's wife, Greta Rice, is a nonprofessional.

He is modest, intelligent and conservative. He is prouder of his small son than he is of star billing. He's a collector of "how to bring up babies" information. He boasts that he pins a mighty neat diaper on his son.

Greg says that if as an actor he has to have a hobby, the help shortage has fortunately provided one for him. He is a pretty fair and passably energetic gardener.

Greta and Gregory Peck do very well without night clubs. Their favorite entertainment is visiting with half a dozen friends. Greg likes discussions—any subject.

He swims and rides, but his tennis is bad, and he's never mastered golf.

Behind the Scenes

Pack is a quick study. He learns a page of dialog merely by reading it through twice.

He always had stage fright at dress rehearsals. This tenseness lasts several days of shooting on each picture.

He doesn't believe the "hoity toity" attitude stage directors have toward the screen is justfied. For his money some of the best actors in the world are right in this town.

He's under the spell of Alfred Hitchock. Says, "It's a privilege to work under his direction."

He'd like to do one rootin', tootin' western. His enjoyment of horseback riding has something to do with this ambition.

One Appearance

Greg's father was a druggist in San Diego. He'd alway wished that he was a doctor. Greg had a great devotion to his father—still has. He decided that if his father thought doctoring was the ideal career, doctoring was for him.

At the University of California Greg studied medicine.

Then came the school production of "Anna Christie." With that one appearance he discovered he really liked acting.

When he finished school he left for New York.

He applied for the job as guide at Radio City. Then came his scholarship to the New York Neighborhood Playhouse, which was followed by the Barter theater award. And he as on his way up.

Would Hamlet Pass?

O, my gosh! The Hays office has put a ceiling on the number of bodies you can have in a western. Now it's eight . . . Producers are mighty sensitive too, about gun-women on the screen these days. Are they afraid it might give some Hollywood ladies an idea? Elizabeth Taylor is star stuff in "National Velvet," as I predicted she would be. In "Hold High the Torch," she's also starred. They've also got the raven, Pete, who barks like a dog.

Futures For Veterans
Druggist Supports Prop. 1

"Proposition No. 1 on the general election ballot of November 7, 1944, provides for a $30,000,000 bond issue. It will make available funds for the purchase of homes and farms for veterans of World War II who enter the service from the State of California," this week said R. Monson, in support of the new measure.

This will be a continuance of the beneficial program which was inaugurated in 1922 for California veterans of World War I. This activity is recognized as being one of, if not the finest of rehabilitation and Americanization programs existent in the world today, the local druggist said.

"Stated briefly, it is based upon the wholesome and progressive philosophy that it is infinitely better for America to have an American family living in its own home rather than the same family living in a house owned by the landlord.

"The 22-year record of the Veterans' Welfare Board is one of unusual, constructive accomplishment, resulting in the purchase for California veterans of more than 20,000 homes acquired without a taint of charity and further, and perhaps more important, without one cent of cost to California taxpayers," Monson pointed out.

A total of $80,000,000 has already been voted by the people of the State of California resulting in the acquisition of homes and farms of a value exceeding $89,000,000. Not one cent of interest or principal on Veterans' Welfare Bonds has been a single day delinquent and there has accumulated a net surplus in excess of $8,000,000.

Certainly there is no finer way for the citizens of California to contribute to the rehabilitation and Americanization of the returning veterans of World War II than to cast a "Yes" vote on Proposition No. 1, he emphasized.

Eagles Endorse Proposition No. 1

San Rafael Aerie of Eagles No. 256, at the recent meeting, unanimously endorsed Proposition No. 1 on the November 7 ballot. The Proposition calls for the appropriation by the State of 30 million dollars to be loaned to servicemen for purchase of homes and farms, setting a maximum loan of $5,000 on homes and $7,500 on farms.

Kerosene Station

C. T. Woodhouse was arrested last week for breaking the door open at the market kerosene station, reports the Sheriff's office.

He was fined $25 by Judge Paul Helmore of the Sausalito police court.

Oiler Sails Off

Slashing 20 days off the previous yard record, the tanker S. S. Antelope Hills was delivered Saturday, October 14, into service with the U. S. Maritime Commission by Marinship.

Homes for Armymen Sought
USO Asks Supervisors' Aid

A captain just back from 26 months of active service as a fighter pilot in the South Pacific now stationed at Hamilton Field, is unable to find even a room in Marin County, so that he may be near his wife. Instead he is forced to pay $7 per day in an East Bay hotel.

A buck private, whose wife and small daughter have no home or family where they may find lodging while he is at war, tried for four months in Marin to find a place for his small family, and was finally forced to abandon the project and leave his wife in a large eastern city, entirely alone, although he is permanently stationed at Hamilton Field.

These are no isolated examples. The U. S. O. officials of Marin hear these same stories from Navy men, Coast Guardsmen and Marines, as well as Marinship workers every day.

The Marin Board of Supervisors has been requested by the local USO council to aid in this housing problem, which is becoming more acute each day. At the present time Supervisor William Fusselman, at his request, has been appointed to investigate the matter.

Donna Jean Leach had a stomach ache which turned out to be an appendix. She has left the troublesome appendix at Ross hospital and is home now "doing nicely, thank you."

City Adopts Peace Action Resolution

Norman Campbell, chairman of the Marin City Council, reports the adoption of the following resolution by the Marin City Council:

"Whereas, loyalty to the boys now fighting on the battle fronts of the world, demands that when they win the war, we on the home front must help win the peace, and

"Whereas, victory over the Axis Powers must be made a victory or war itself, and

"Whereas, the next Congress of the United States will decide as to whether the United States will cooperate with the United Nations for World Organization for Peace, or desert its Allies in the ways of peace,

Be it resolved, that the Marin City Council endorse the campaign being waged by Citizens for Victory, to mobilize public opinion for world organization and through the peace action post cards inform the incumbents and candidates that the voters of America demand that Victory on the battle front be crowned by permanent peace through world cooperation."

Dr. Norman Pendleton, who is directing this nation-wide campaign in the bay region, reports a tremendous response to the drive, and that over a quarter of a million Peace Action Post Cards have been mailed to Senator Downey and Lt. Governor Houser.

The campaign comes to a conclusion next week with Dr. Pendleton speaking in Palo Alto, Oakland, Berkeley, St. Helena and Lakeport.

Deputies

At the request of the house committee of the Marin City Council, Frank Matthews and T. S. Roberts, deputies, will be on duty at the Sunday night dance here.

Patricia Barton has her left arm in a sling — no broken bones, but falling twice on her wrist made the doctors suspect a break. An X-ray cleared all doubt, but Patricia says her arm is mighty sore since the second bump.

Four tons of paper were collected at last Sunday's paper drive in Marin City.

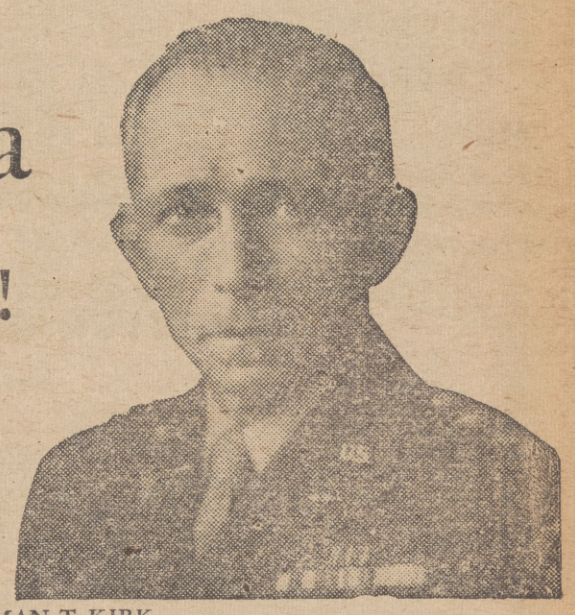
California Women!



"The U. S. Army Medical Department urgently needs you now"

MAJOR GENERAL NORMAN T. KIRK
Surgeon General U. S. Army

IF there burns within you a sincere desire to do something active and important to help win the war, here is your opportunity. Join the WAC—serve in the Army Medical Department, where women are vitally needed now. You can help bring the war to a quick, successful end. You can help bring our loved ones—your loved ones, perhaps—home sooner. And you can learn a valuable technical skill that may be the foundation of a career after the war.

With the biggest battles of the Pacific still ahead, the West must take a still more active part in the war. You are needed here, in Australia perhaps, or elsewhere behind battlefronts, to give our men the needed attention.

The care and rehabilitation of the sick and wounded is a woman's noblest work. Get into it if you can. If you are between the ages of 20 and 50 and have no children under 14, or other dependents, call the nearest U. S. Army recruiting station, 19 Grant Avenue, San Francisco

GREYHOUND SERVES, TOO
Greyhound is happy to publish this message throughout the West for the WAC. We are in war work, too—providing transportation for them and other branches of the Armed Forces . . . aiding in troop movements . . . transporting wounded . . . at the same time carrying on an essential service for the traveling public. And Greyhound is looking ahead, planning for a finer, larger, better highway travel service when the war is won.

Mme. Barry Orlova To Speak Monday

Madame Barry Orlova, well known lecturer and actress, who has spent a large portion of her life in Europe, will speak Monday, October 30, at 8 p.m., at the Marin Republican Central Committee headquarters, 1335 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Madame Orlova, who will discuss the foreign situation as it relates to America, was educated in San Francisco and later appeared throughout Europe in dramatic productions. She, as the wife of a Russian nobleman, was in Russia during the revolution, and in 1936 was in Germany during the rise of Hitler, and later was in France during the labor unrest.

Newspaper, magazines and even cloth-bound books are used for packing for supplies going to isolated posts from Benicia, Calif.

Marin Traveling Dentist

During the past weeks the students at Tomales Joint Union High School have been receiving dental treatment through visits to the school by the dental trailer (exterior and interior shown on the right above) under auspices of the Marin Health Department. Stressing the need for dental hygiene, Miss Dulcie Green and Miss Florence Kahn gave lectures to the students, who later received dental aid from Dr. Augusta Dawson, shown at the left with patient, Clyde Lundy. Students responded enthusiastically to the system as shown by the smiles on the faces of Beverly Welling, Ann Montafi and Bill Steele, top right.

State Schools Face Crisis;

"An increase of a million and a half in California's population has resulted in overcrowded schools, teacherless classrooms and half-day education schedules," this week declared Superintendent Clifton Boyle.

"This situation, which is fatal to educational standards, can be corrected only by the passage of Proposition 9 which will appear on the November 7 ballot," he said.

Proposition 9 will increase the present state contribution from $60 a year for each child in elementary school, to $80 a year.

"The law allowing a state allotment of $60 per child was passed by the state legislature 24 years ago," Boyle pointed out.

"In the last two years, the Sausalito School District, which includes Marin City, has more than quadrupled its pupil total.

"And the per child tax ability which was better than state average before the war, is now only one-third the average of other California districts," Boyle said in support of the school-aid measure.

Organizations in California who urge vote "yes" on Proposition 9 are American Legion, Democratic Party, Republican Central Clubs, State Department of Education, Business and Professional Women's Clubs, California League of Women Voters, Federation of Women's Clubs, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Parent-Teachers Association, State Federation of Labor, Congress of Industrial Organization, Railroad Brotherhood, California Trustees Association, Disabled American Veterans, California Association of County Treasurers, California Welfare Institute, and State Council of Education.

A Year Ago In Marin City

(From The Marin Citizen Files of October 29, 1943.)

A tremendous explosion of acetylene gas at Marinship on Wednesday injured four women workers, badly damaged the publicity office of the yard and rocked the entire north Sausalito area.

* * *

Marin City citizens turned thumbs down on a proposal to abolish the city's voting districts in council elections.

* * *

The school sent in an application for extended school space, asking for double the cafeteria room and addition of two kindergarten classrooms.

* * *

Don't use the 4 o'clock bus for shopping trips, requested the inter-city bus, which is loaded down at that hour with workers reporting for the swing shift.

* * *

The apartment areas are becoming slum districts, charged residents at a mass meeting a year ago. No sidewalks, lack of heat, and over-crowding were cited by the crowd.

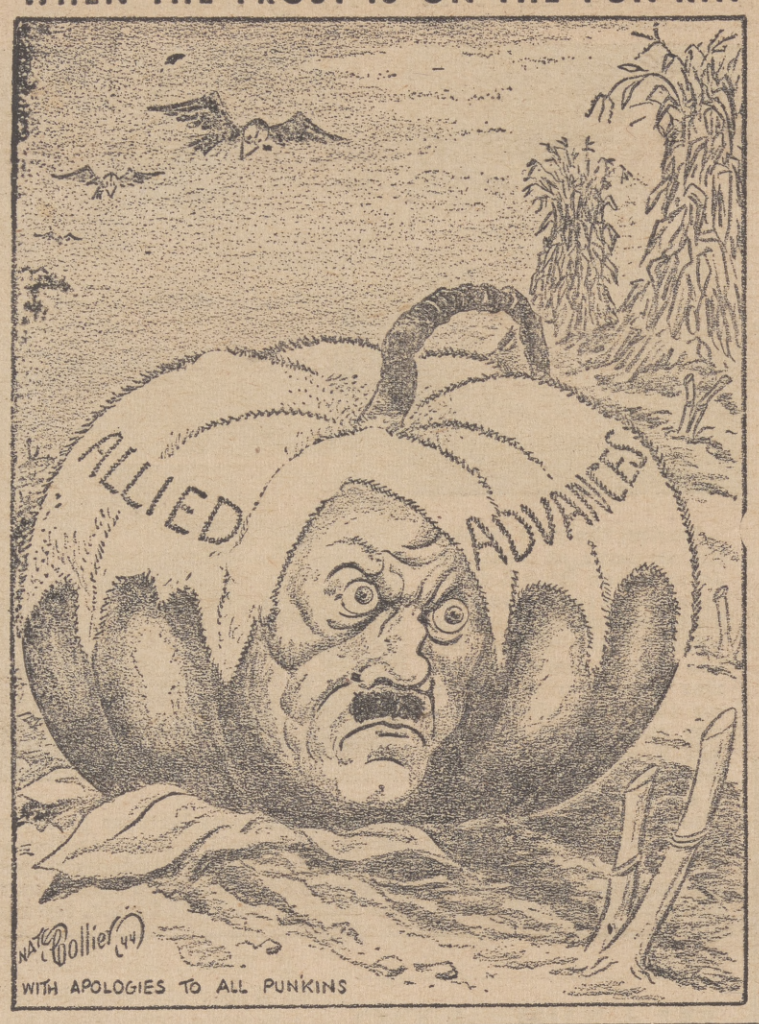
* * *

Forty Marin City mothers were on the waiting list to enter their children at the nursery school this time last year.

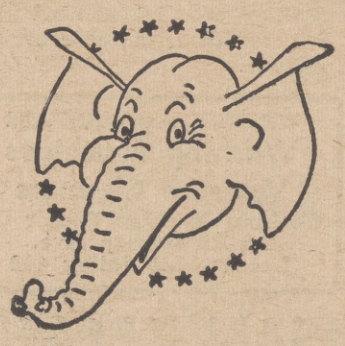
* * *

Warnings about candle-lit pumpkins, were issued this week by Fire Chief Rolf Bremer. Only father or mother should use matches to relight the candle, he said.

WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUN'KIN



Republican



By DAN ALLEN

Regardless of party, most of us feel that the next President of the United States is going to have a tough job. The problem would be difficult enough if he were a Dictator, and could solve them all himself without consulting any of the other branches of our government. But, fortunately for the country, our Congress still has some authority left, and it is important to take a look at the probable membership of that body.

The House of Representatives will in all probability have a Republican majority, and the balance of parties in the Senate will be very close. In both houses there will also be many anti-New Deal Democrats. It is a well known fact that members of all groups tend to cast their votes with or against the current administration, rather than to vote each measure on its own merits.

The New Deal has not had the support of even the present Congress, and after November its chances of getting cooperation would be practically nil. Our government would arrive at a state of suspended animation.

Under these circumstances, the election of Governor Dewey is the only possible method of uniting these various groups so they will support both a practical international program and an efficient domestic administration.

Unlike President Roosevelt, Dewey has no obligations to any political groups, nor has he a host of unpopular personal hangers-on. Congress would not need to feel that support of a program proposed by him would be handing over its own prerogatives to a group of starry-eyed theorists.

Just as an example, consider the power that Congress must grant our representatives to any World Security Council. A Congress that distrusted the Executive would certainly refuse to delegate anything like enough power to make our representatives really effective, and would end by invalidating our whole Peace program.

Democrat

By MIKE SMITH

As this campaign goes into its final days, a development is taking form which is causing many a battle scarred political veteran to shake his head in bewilderment.

When Dewey made his "labor" speech in Seattle, he came out with a grudging endorsement of the National Labor Relations Act. While this was a bitter pill to some of his labor-hating supporters, they were game enough to go along because they knew it was necessary in order to get any labor votes at all.

Without some support of the working people no candidate can hope to win. So the G.O.P. reactionaries put it down as "smart politics" when T.E.D. admitted he contemplated no change in labor's "Magna Carta."

In San Francisco, Dewey gave further approval of more of Roosevelt's work when he gave his O.K. to all the Social Security legislation inaugurated by the present administration.

This was also accepted good-naturedly on the basis that their candidate was just "playing it smart." Hearst, McCormack, and all the rest of the Roosevelt-hating press are still whooping it up for Dewey. But it is going to be interesting to observe how these isolationists are going to reconcile themselves to the fact that their candidate has now come out in favor of the post-war peace plans first enunciated by F.D.R.

No doubt Heart and other isolationists like him, will console themselves with knowledge that Tom really didn't mean what he said in his Minneapolis speech when he tried to pass himself off as a full-blown internationalist.

They probably will recall how Dewey maintained a "discreet" silence when the G.O.P. bloc in Congress was voting solidly against the President's preparedness measures.

They will also recall how Dewey opposed the original lend-lease bill by saying the "bill would bring an end to free government in the United States and would abolish Congress for all practical purposes."

Heart and other pro-fascists like him, will forgive Dewey for anything as long as he is "safe" on that point.

In the meantime, the average voter is beginning to wonder when Dewey is going to state what HE stands for. This business of trying to "hitchhike" his way into office is something new in American politics, but it's not going to work.

Give to the War Chest now. Marin City's goal is $1000.

As Others See Us

Nurse Chick Shares Letter

All of the experiences I wanted to share with you this week found themselves written up in a letter which I am sending to an old friend. So I'll pass them right along to you and—

DEAR ELMER:

It has been a long time since I have written a response to your interesting letters. Always your observations of the people and countries you contact in your adventurous travels are intimate and descriptive. You are one of those blessed people who even in the line of often bitter duty, see and express appreciation for the lovely and unusual. Everyone in the service sees much which could embitter him and encourage an hopeless outlook on life. But not you!

It seems to me that underlying your attitude is the unshakeable conviction that there is something worth while for which you are fighting — democracy. Let me tell you part of the story of the war community in which I live and work, where democracy is put in practical application.

Our city consists of long, squat, brown buildings climbing the hills like the ancient homes of cliff dwellers. The hills bathe their feet in the bay and look at stately Mount Tamalpais in the background.

There are about six thousand people here and many of them find their situation as strange to themselves as the South Pacific or Africa are to you overseas. We have the plains people, the mountaineers, farmers, New Yorkers, colored folks, scholars, and laborers. As a community we are making history, as history is democracy in its broadest interpretation.

We are learning to live in close and harmonious relationships with our next door neighbor who may be of a different creed and color. We are learning that tolerance and friendship are of the spirit reflected in deed.

Our community, like other active war areas, has its hazards, too, and there are moments when the idealized state is pushed into one's mental background. Witness my troubles of the other day.

After having been on call over the weekend, and still heavy-eyed for want of sleep, I sailed out to my car and found a very flat tire. It was glass again.

Children and adults alike have made great sport of smashing bottles on the roads. Our roads are often as hazardous as some of the bombed areas, littered with shell fragments. Perhaps we should make a sport of collecting glass and offering a prize for the areas made most safe. Have you any better suggestions from the other side of the world?

In a week or two I'll tell you more about Marin City, especially our medical plan which is so dear to my heart.

In the spirit of affection suggested by the name, I sign myself with best wishes always,

NURSE CHICK.
